Read the passage below and answer questions 15 to 20.

"Master of the game"

An old man who lived in the city had to put up with the nuisance of having boys play cricket in the streets outside his house in the streetlights, at night. One evening, when the boys were particularly noisy, he could not sleep. So he went out to talk to them. He explained that he was very happy whenever he could see or hear boys playing his favorite game, cricket. He said he would give them 25 rupees each week to play in the street at night. The boys were thrilled.

They were being paid to do something they enjoyed! At the end of the first week they knocked at the old man's house and asked to be paid. He did so. The second week when they asked for payment he said he had run out of money and sent them away with only 15 rupees. The boys were very disappointed but there was not much they could do about it. The fourth week the man said he could not afford to pay them 25 rupees as he had promised, but would give them 5 rupees each week without fail. This was too much for the boys.

"You expect us to play seven days a week for a measly 5 rupees each!" they yelled. The boys then stormed away and never played on the street again.

Read the following poem and answer questions 26 through 28.

"Spectacles"

My grandma lost her spectacles
And when she went to bed,
I peeped at her and they were there
On top of grandma's head.
I took them gently in my hand
And stood high on my toes.
And then I held my breath real tight
And put them on her nose.
My grandma did not wake at all
She only winked one eye.
And so I guess perhaps she thought
That I was just a fly.
